

Do you want to increase the size of the U.S. military?

NO?

Neither do most people in the United States.

But both major political parties still support an INCREASE in the size of the military.

Make Peace the Issue in the 2008 Elections

The war in Iraq has demonstrated to the world the limits of military force. Instead of investing hundreds of billions of dollars in war, the United States should be developing the tools necessary to prevent and resolve deadly conflict.

Demonstrate your support for peace by:

- Ordering a free "War is Not the Answer" sign or bumper sticker
- Writing letters to the editor of your local newspaper
- Asking hard questions of all candidates for Congress
